Hunderte Tropentiere beim Transport erfroren

Zürich (dpa). Hunderte von wertvollen Tropentieren sind auf dem Luftweg in die Schweiz verendet. Die als bedrohte Arten geltenden Chamäleons, Frösche, Igel, Geckos und Tausendfüßler kamen aus Madagaskar. Viele der Exoten sollten an den Zoo in Zürich geliefert werden. Tierimporteur Martin Schreiber sagte gestern, alles deute darauf hin, dass die Tiere beim Umladen in Paris erfroren seien. In Zürich bemerkte der Experte, dass die Kisten aus dem Air-France-Flugzeug viel zu kalt waren. Nach zwei Stunden im Tierraum (25 Grad) hatten sie erst 13,9 Grad.

Flugzeug zu klein – neuer Elefantenbulle kommt später

VON RÜDIGER KNORR
HANNOVER. Die Elefantenkühe im Zoo müssen auf ihren neuen Zuchtbullen warten: Die Kühe, in der Elefantenmann Calvin auf den Flug von Kanada nach Deutschland gehen sollte (NP berichtete), passte nicht ins Transportflugzeug.

Gestern fuhr sollte der 2,70 Meter große, fast vier Tonnen schwere kanadische Bulle in Frankfurt landen. Doch noch in der Nacht kam per Fax die Nachricht: Calvin musste in Toronto wieder von Bord, weil die Palette mit seinem Transportkäfig ein paar Zentimeter zu groß war.

Calvin kehrte zunächst mit seinem bisherigen Besitzer und Begleiter Charles Grey wieder zum African Lion Safari Park in Cambridge (Ontario) zurück.

Keine Stoßzähne

Zoologe Dr. Heiner Engel nahm die Verzögerung gestern gelassen. Denn dass so kurz nach dem tragischen Tod des Bullen Siporex ein neuer „Proven Breeder“ („geprüfter Züchter“) für Hannovers Dschungelgelaast gefunden wurde, ist ohnehin ein Glücksfall. Engel: „Wir haben weltweit gefahndet und beim Angebot aus Kanada sofort zugegriffen.“ Calvin hatte eigentlich schon in einen US-Zirkus wechseln sollen.

Nun wird der Bulle am kommenden Donnerstag erwartet. Im Dschungelgelaast trifft er auf einen Bekannten: Hannovers Elefanten-Jüngling Nikolai ist mit ihm in Kanada aufgewachsen.

Anders als Nikolai trägt der Neue keine Stoßzähne. Engel: „Bei indischen Elefantenbulen keine Seltenheit. Das ist wie unterschiedlicher Bartwuchs.“

Zusammen aufgewachsen: Nikolai (links) und Calvin vor einem Jahr in Kanada.

Two giraffes die on trip from Molokai to Maui

By Gary Kubota
Star-Bulletin

WAILUKU -- Two giraffes scheduled to find a new home at a children's zoo on Maui have died en route from Molokai.

Veterinarians administered shots yesterday to test the animals for tuberculosis and to sedate them for the trip.

"They didn't die immediately," said state veterinarian Dr. James Foppoli. One died before 6 p.m. yesterday and the other died later, he said. The giraffes were put into the container with no problems.

"When they were in their crates, they seemed to be doing fine," Foppoli said.

State officials say tests done on tissue samples from the giraffes may shed light on the cause of death. Results are expected in about a week.

The giraffes, Momi and Maikai, were donated by Molokai Ranch, which is closing its safari park.

16 DEADLY CARGO ESCAPES AT RIYADH AIRPORT

Panic struck Riyadh airport last week when 300 poisonous cobras escaped from a passenger's luggage, according to newspaper reports. Eyewitnesses quoted by Al-Jaizirah said the dangerous snakes slithered free after a Customs officer insisted that a man open his suitcases for a search. The man had arrived on a flight bound from Cairo.

While an official number for the cobras was not provided, witnesses estimated the figure to be around the 300 mark. The chief of Riyadh's King Khaled International airport Customs said the snakes had all been exterminated with the co-operation of the ministry of agriculture. No one was injured in the incident, and it is not yet clear what the passenger intended to do with the creatures.
