

Whether for a business or a cause, social media has become ground zero for getting the word out. So, ATA is investing in social media to better communicate with our members and the animal transportation community.

We invite you to join us as we explore this new method for communicating. If you already have Twitter, Linked In, Instagram or Facebook accounts, we encourage you to "FOLLOW" us on Twitter and Instagram, "LIKE" us on Facebook, and/or "VIEW OUR PROFILE" and follow us on Linked In.

Please invite other industry colleagues to join ATA as well.

In this fast-paced technological world we live in today, time and information are very important. Using these new social media services will allow us to more easily and quickly provide you with news in a variety of industry and educational updates within ATA and the industry.

If you don't utilize these social media tools, don't worry, we will also be communicating with you via our regular email announcements.

Thank you, ATA Social Media Committee
