

Dr. Kirstin Barnhart
Envigo

Dr. Kirstin Barnhart graduated from the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University in 1993. She worked at a small animal practice for 5 years in Houston, Texas before returning to Texas A&M to complete a residency in Clinical Pathology and a PhD in Molecular Pathology. She worked as an Assistant Professor and Laboratory Director MD Anderson Cancer Center's primate facility for 8 years before transitioning to the pharmaceutical industry. She worked as an Associate Director of Clinical Pathology and Senior Pathologist for 7 years at AbbVie in North Chicago, Illinois before accepting a position with Envigo as Site Director of a large primate breeding and importation facility in Texas in 2019. She is a Past President of the American Society for Veterinary Clinical Pathology and spent 4 years on the Board of Directors for the American College of Veterinary Pathologists.