

Patrick Sharp, CVM
University of California, Merced

Patrick Sharp received his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) degree from Purdue University in 1991. He completed his postdoctoral fellowship at the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis and is a diplomate of the American College of Laboratory Animal Medicine (ACLAM). He is a Member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons and the Australia New Zealand College of Veterinary Surgeons.

Dr. Sharp has worked in government, industry and has held academic appointments and positions at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA, University of Florida, the National University of Singapore, and the Fundação Champalimaud's Centre for the Unknown.

Dr. Sharp has supported comparative medicine training, including both ACLAM-approved training programs and international training opportunities for laboratory animal graduate veterinarians and veterinary students. He has strived to increase the quality of animal care through personnel training and education at all animal care levels and through the design and construction of better vivaria and research support facilities.
